PROFILE

Aspiring IT professional with a strong foundation in web development. Passionate about building efficient and userfriendly applications using Python, Java, and modern web technologies. Seeking opportunities to apply my skills in realworld projects.

PROJECTS

1. Student Management System

- Developed a real-time student detection system using Python and OpenCV to identify and track faces from live video streams.
- Implemented face detection techniques for recognizing multiple students simultaneously.
- Designed the system to improve automation in attendance and monitoring processes.
